Qualified DISC Trainer

Introducing DISC Workplace and DISC Work of Leaders

DISC Workplace can be used with the entire organization. Those involved will learn and appreciate the styles of the people they work with. The result is more successful and dynamic working relationships.

DISC Work of Leaders identifies key points to being a top notch leader. The course will focus on three key points for any successful organizational project.

Dennis Beson is a Qualified DISC trainer ready to assist your organization, staff, or company on becoming better leaders and understanding the personality styles that you deal with on a regular basis.
